St. Margaret of Scotland Families:

As you may know, there is severe weather heading our way this afternoon. Additionally, many area schools have elected to have early dismissals. In consideration of the inclement weather and coverage issues we face with teachers/aides who must pick up their own children, we have decided to dismiss school beginning at 1:00 PM today.

I understand that this may be a hardship for some parents; know that I apologize for this hassle in advance. Please understand that we are making this decision in what we believe to be best for our students and teachers.

If you are unable to make it by 1:00 PM, know that we will certainly monitor your children until you can arrive. We just ask that you make arrangements as best you can.

God Bless,

Patrick Holley

In the end, it's the beginning that counts.
